

Publications:

Books authored

The Sceptical Vision of Molière : a Study in Paradox (London : Macmillan, 1977), 250pp.

Aspects of 17th Century French Drama and Thought (London : Macmillan, 1979), 190pp.

The Triumph of Ballet in Molière's Theatre (Lampeter : Mellen Press, 1992), 374pp.

L'Imposteur de 1667 prédécesseur du Tartuffe (Durham : University of Durham Press, 1999), 229pp.

In Press

Molière et son premier Tartuffe : genèse et évolution d'une pièce à scandale (Durham : University of Durham Press) 254p.

Divers:

Professor Robert Mc Bride was born in Belfast and took his B.A. and his Ph.D at The Queen's University of Belfast Prior to his appointment at Coleraine, he was Lecturer (1968-1973) and Senior Lecturer (1973-1981) in French Language and Literature at the same University.

From 1982-1984 he was Professor of French at The New University of Ulster and from 1984 until the present has been Professor of French at The University of Ulster. He has been active in promoting links with France, notably with L'Alliance Française, the University of Pau and in attracting distinguished French academics to lecture at The University of Ulster. In 1990 he was appointed Chevalier dans L'Ordre des Palmes Académiques for services to French language and culture.